Since 1999, the #1 Motorcycling Resource for Women and Those Who Ride With Us

February 14, 2023

Hello new and regular subscribers! This newsletter is our way of sharing articles and news recently posted on WomenRidersNow.com (WRN).

I'm fortunate to live in the San Francisco Bay area where we can ride motorcycles most of the year so long as we are wearing proper gear for the weather and road conditions. But I still get excited for the spring riding season which brings warmer temperatures and an amazing opportunity to ride comfortably as the snow melts.

This season I'm especially excited to be leaving the cold behind when I head south to Patagonia, South America, in March for a 16-day ADV tour with RawHyde Adventures.

Have you planned your epic 2023 rides yet?

Maybe you and some friends will ride to Milwaukee for Harley-Davidson's 120th anniversary celebration in July. Or perhaps you plan to hit Daytona Bike Week or Tallahassee Bike Fest this spring. If you attend these or other exciting motorcycling events, please share your photos with us via our Facebook and Instagram pages. We love to hear your stories!

Enjoy the journey,

Heated Gear Buyer's Guide

12V options to warm women riders

When the temperature drops, you don't need to stop riding your motorcycle if you can keep your body and extremities warm. With heated gear plugged into your motorcycle's battery, you can be comfortable for as long as the ride lasts. Here, we've put together a listing of today's best electrically heated jacket liners, gloves, pants for women and those who ride with them. **CHECK IT OUT**

Turning a dream into reality

When Hollie Bell-Schinzing's last child moved out, she and her husband decided it was time to turn the dream of riding their Harley-Davidsons across America into a reality. Sharing her adventures with online friends along the way, her journals eventually worked their way into a published book. Read her story and find out more about the book. READ MORE
